Cook Political Report, 5/27/11

“IL-08 - As anticipated, Democrats have proposed a reworked northwest suburban district taking in the heavily Democratic cities of Schaumburg, Elgin, Carpentersville, and Elk Grove. Notably, this district includes the Hoffman Estates home of Raja Krishnamoorthi, the former state deputy treasurer who will run here. It does not include the McHenry County home of Walsh, who would end up in the same district as fellow freshman Hultgren (IL-14). This seat would have given President Obama roughly 62 percent of the vote, making it a Democratic slam dunk.”

Washington Post, The Fix, 5/23/11

“Former Illinois Deputy Treasurer Raja Krishnamoorthi (D) announced Sunday that he will challenge Rep. Joe Walsh (R-Ill.) next year. Walsh is likely to be targeted by redistricting and is considered one of the most vulnerable incumbents in the country. The India-born Krishnamoorthi may face a primary but is expected to be formidable.”

Chicago Sun-Times, 6/8/11

“Krishnamoorthi, 37, who narrowly lost the Democratic primary election for state comptroller last year, has been busy locking up endorsements from the lion’s share of local Democrats. Five of the six Cook County Democratic committeemen in the district are on board. The DuPage County Democratic township leaders and the Democratic chairs of DuPage and Kane County have endorsed him. Cook County Board President Toni Preckwinkle is a supporter.”

Daily Kos, 5/24/11

“IL-08: Former state Deputy Treasurer and 2010 Comptroller candidate Raja Krishnamoorthi says he's considering a run to take on freshman GOPer Joe Walsh. Krishnamoorthi lost the Democratic primary for Comptroller last year to state Rep. David Miller by just one percent (47-46). He's also tight with one Barack Obama, having worked on his very first congressional campaign in 2000 and pretty much all of his races since then.”

“This seat would have given President Obama roughly 62 percent of the vote.”

“Krishnamoorthi is expected to be formidable.”
